

Living in a rural area, I am always looking for a faster connection to the internet and hi tech services, however, I feel with all the evidence presented by several agencies, that this will cause major interference to the HF frequencies disturbing Amateur as well as Military Communications.